

Victoria Labalme BIOGRAPHY

Important note:

The BIOGRAPHY below is for digital and physical print only.

If instead you're looking for the spoken introduction for an emcee/host to read aloud before Victoria's live keynote, please refer to the separate document titled LIVE INTRODUCTION.

Victoria Labalme is a master at helping people at all levels dramatically elevate their ability to communicate, connect, come alive...and win over the people they serve.

Her results-driven approach offers a strategic blend of art and business that taps into her decades of performing arts experience: HBO, Caroline's on Broadway, comedy clubs, television, one-woman shows and documentary films.

Her creative projects have received critical acclaim from The Hollywood Reporter, Variety, BBC, CBS, The New York Times, Los Angeles Times, and Good Morning America.

A member of the Speaker Hall of Fame, Victoria is known for her customized Keynote Performances and workshops around the world. Her proprietary systems and strategies have been embraced by top teams at more than 700 organizations including Starbucks, Microsoft, PayPal, Verizon, Coca-Cola, Chase, L'Oreal, Oracle, Lowe's, the World Bank, universities, cultural institutions, and not-for-profits.

Through her Rock The Room® and High Performance Communications coaching, She is a trusted consultant to hundreds of elite individuals, top teams, and C-suite executives at global brands, helping them knock their presentations out of the park for high-stakes meetings, calls, pitches, keynotes, and video communications—both virtual and live.

Victoria is a Wall Street Journal bestselling author, as well as the founder of Risk Forward®, Rock The Room® and High Performance Communications. In addition to her keynotes, she offers a full suite of learning experiences, courses, workshops, and consulting: www.VictoriaLabalme.com
